

- Photos
- Floorplans
- Virtual Tours

Click here to find your apartment

Discussion of:

Bachelorette parties

Damned is the couple who gets married in a recession. When the time comes for bachelor and bachelorette bashes, no one wants to drop a ton of cash&...

View more »

What other people are saying...

5 comments | Add Your Own

Date: Newest First

Displaying comments 1 - 5 of 5

victoriamanda from Lake Villa - September 13, 2009 at 12:40 PM

My sister was getting married and we went to Kama Sutra the musical and we had a blast!!! It was a historically funny good show. Very entertaining and cute. We like others went to pot pan right beforehand and all worked out perfect. Thanks to the Kama Sutra musical cast for everything.

Report This Comment

melhen from Hoffman Estates, IL - August 24, 2009 at 12:40 PM

I went to the show with my sisters, aunts, and grandmother for my bachelorette party. It was a great show, we all really enjoyed it, we all had our fair share of laughs. I truly recommend it, it was a ton of fun and a load of laughs.

Report This Comment

Ragtopia from North Shore - July 30, 2009 at 3:51 PM

Best Bachelorette ever. Seats at the stage. The producer greeted us and told us all these stories about writing for Oprah and Joan Jett. The show and the songs were funny and the performers work the whole room all night. Afterward we got to go up on stage with for pictures taken with the performers, which they sent to us online. And Sarah got a cd of the show.

Report This Comment

nmas from ukrainian village - June 30, 2009 at 6:48 PM

We celebrated my friend's bachelorette party at Kama Sutra, The Musical, which was performed at The Davenport on Milwaukee. We had a blast! The cast was hilarious and played off the best. We started with Dinner at 7:30 at Pot Pan, a Thai BYOB that was delicious, and ridiculously cheap. With appetizers and all chipping in for the Bachelorette's meal, we paid $14 each. We headed across Milwaukee Ave. to Davenport's for Karma Sutra the Musical. They treated us like Rock Stars.

Report This Comment

Laura114 from Northwest Indiana - May 25, 2009 at 9:20 AM

Organizing a bachelorette party for 18 girls is not an easy task, but for my sister I wanted nothing but the best. We started with Dinner at 7:30 at Pot Pan, a Thai BYOB that was delicious, and ridiculously cheap. With appetizers and all chipping in for the Bachelorette's meal, we paid $14 each. We headed across Milwaukee Ave. to Davenport's for Karma Sutra the Musical. They treated us like Rock Stars.

10TH ANNIVERSARY CELEBRATION

10 FREE DAYS
October 23 - November 1
Exciting daily programs for everyone

COME SEE HOW WE'VE GROWN

THE PEGGY NOTERBAERT NATURE MUSEUM
The Museum of the Chicago Academy of Sciences

most viewed | emailed | commented

Most viewed Bar & Club items in the last 24 hours

- Chicago Halloween parties
- Coffeeshouse bars
- New on the scene
- The Original Mother's
- Photos: Zombie strippers!

View all most viewed Bars & Clubs »